Where can I find free food on campus?

- Tons of organizations and clubs on campus host events that offer free food
- But by the time you find out about these:
  - The food is all gone, or
  - The event has ended

Our solution to this is FEASTA

A web/mobile app that provides REAL-TIME updates on events with free food around campus

- What events?
- Where?
- When? (start and end time)
- What food?

I'm hungry. Tell me more details!

With FEASTA, you can:

- Browse on-going and upcoming events with free food up to 11:59pm everyday.

- Search your favorite foods or dietary restrictions

- Save your preferences to your profile:
  - To curate your feeds, or
  - (optional) daily push notification about free food availability

My event has free food, so…

→ Sign up as a promoter!!!

As a promoter on FEASTA, you can:
- Upload an image of your food
- Tag the post with your event's location and time
- Smart-tag the categories of your food

Other features

As a diner, you can also:
- Leave ratings and reviews
- Receive notification when food has run out

As a promoter, you can also:
- See analytics of your events, e.g.
  - What foods attract most attendees
  - What time blocks have the highest turnouts
  - From which buildings your attendees learn about your event

Developer specs

- Two client-facing interfaces: diners and promoters
  - Uber (riders – drivers), EventBrite (attendees – organizers)
- Post expiry:
  - Past events hidden from diners
  - Event inventory everyday at midnight
- .edu verification:
  - only SJU students can access these data
- Concept competitor: Lunchbox
